Shadow Pulse Releases Debut Album "Shadows of the Sun," a Calypso Tribute to Antiguan and Barbudan Resilience

St. John's, Antigua and Barbuda – September 1, 2025 – Shadow Pulse, an anonymous calypso inspired collective from Antigua and Barbuda, today announces the release of their debut album, "Shadows of the Sun." This 10-track collection captures the essence of Antiguan and Barbudan life in 2025, blending vibrant rhythms and sharp-witted lyrics to address pressing issues like political corruption, youth violence, gender-based violence, and land rights while celebrating cultural pride and hope.

The album features a benna-inspired sound with steelpan, congas, and brass, creating an uplifting yet thought-provoking experience.

Key Tracks Include:

Sweet Talk, Bitter Lies – A critique of political corruption and broken promises.

Dragon Debt Shadows – Examines foreign loans and their hidden costs.

Youth Crime Tide – Addresses youth violence with empathy and a call for change.

Equal Hearts Cry – A call for equal love and human dignity.

Irma's Legacy – Critiques post-hurricane land grabs in Barbuda.

Hidden Accounts – Calls for transparency in government spending.

Sisters' Strength – Tackles gender-based violence from a supportive perspective.

Island Heart, Scattered Wide – Explores diaspora longing and identity.

One Island, One Pulse – Promotes social unity across class divides.

Sun Still Rise – A hopeful anthem acknowledging issues while emphasizing resilience.
